

BOMBCAST® EASTERN AMERICAN SERIES OF TOURNAMENTS 2020

PRESENTED BY

The Bombcast Eastern American Series of Tournaments barrels on into 2020 with a few changes but no major shifts. We saw some solid growth last year, so it may just be a matter of time before the series needs to look into expansion. (That's a hint that you should attend more events this year and make it happen.)

B.E.A.S.T. is sanctioned and sponsored by the NAF. Any disputes or clarifications will be handled by the NAF's Tournament Series Administrator, a position currently held by Dan "deeferdan" Atherton.

Tournament Series Organizer: Nate "Gaixo" Beem Tournament Series type: Structured.

Rules

- The B.E.A.S.T. 2019 will consist of the following tournaments:

- Big Lick Brawl – Roanoke, VA
- Coal Bowl – Schuylkill Valley, PA
- McMurty's Open – Richmond, VA
- Beanstalk Bowl – Fredericksburg, VA
- 4 Diamonds Cup – Harrisburg, PA
- Carolina Charity Cup – Sanford, NC
- Atlantic Coast Charity Cup – Norfolk, VA
- Dutch Killz Kup – Brooklyn, NY
- Bosom Bowl – Virginia Beach, VA
- Bacon Bowl – Richmond, VA
- Keystone Kup – Harrisburg, PA
- Solstice Slam – Ashburn, VA

-This represents the comprehensive list of participating tournaments for 2020, but the list may be changed or expanded in subsequent years.

-Multiple race tournaments, team tournaments, tournaments with especially unusual house rules, and tournaments taking place at conventions are unlikely to be selected to participate.

-Tournament results (a list of final placement including NAF name and team type used) must be provided to the TSO within 14 days of the tournament's conclusion. Results that are not submitted within that window may be waived.

-If an affiliated tournament is canceled, a replacement may be added. This replacement must be at the same general time (i.e. "summer") and in the same general area.

Scoring

Coaches will receive the following points for each tournament they take part in:

- +10 to +1 points for top 10 placement, on a declining scale. In other words, a 1st-place finish would be worth 10 points, a 2nd-place finish would be worth 9 points, on down to a 10th- place finish being worth 1 point.
- Should there be fewer than 10 coaches (it happens!), the top coach's score would be equal to the total number of participants, the rest would decline as usual.
- +1 point per 10 places below them in the standings. (Examples: A coach finishing 1st in a 32-coach tournament would receive a bonus of +3 because there are 30+ coaches below them. A coach finishing 1st in an 11-coach tournament would receive a bonus of +1 because there are 10 coaches below them. A coach finishing first in a 10-coach tournament would receive no bonus because there are only 9 coaches below them.)
- +1 point per day of the tournament. Given to all participants.
- Organizer bonus: +1 point per 10 coaches in the tournament (only for organizers who do not play in their own event. Organizers also get the participating bonus above.)

-Coaches will be awarded points based on their performance in each TS event they participate in, to a maximum of six events. If they play in more than 6 tournaments, only the top 6 scores will count toward their total. This is a cumulative score, not an average.

-There is no minimum number of tournaments that a participating coach must attend.

-In order to receive points, coaches must be NAF members prior to participating in a tournament. In other words, they cannot sign up in December and receive retroactive points for all the tournaments they attended throughout the preceding year.

-Coaches must use at least 2 races for their scores to count, assuming they played in more than 1 tournament.

-In addition to the main table, a separate table will be maintained for points accrued with Stunty teams. Points will be awarded in the same way, but only those tournaments played with Stunty teams will count.

-For the purpose of this series, Stunty teams will be defined as Goblins per current NAF regulations, Halflings per current NAF regulations, Ogres per current NAF regulations, Lizardmen limited to 0-16 Skinks, 0-1 Kroxigor, and Underworld limited to 0-16 Goblins, 0-1 Troll. Organizers can still set their own standards for their individual tournaments' Stunty Cup (for example: Ogre teams limited to 0-3 ogres, "all skeletons" as an added list), but only the rosters above will generate tournament points toward the Stunty award.

-Tiebreakers will be: Most First Place Finishes, followed by Most Second Place Finishes. If scores are still tied, the prize will go to the coach who used the most different team types during the series. If there is still a tie, random determination (coin toss or die roll) will be used.

Optional rule: Bombcast Bloodsports sponsorship

At the organizer's discretion, any tournament in the series may replace the "Throw a Rock" result on the kickoff chart with the following item:

11	Throw a Bomb	Bombcast Bloodsports got their start broadcasting Blasta Ball, a glorified game of "Hot Potato" popular with goblins. Whenever an angry fan of that sport ends up at a Blood Bowl match by mistake, they invariably respond by hurling a bomb onto the field. Each coach rolls a D6 and adds their FaME to the roll; the team with the lower score is targeted by a bomb. In the case of a tie, the bomb is a dud and has no effect. Decide randomly which player in the team is targeted (only players on the pitch are eligible) and proceed as if that player has been hit with an accurate bomb thrown by a player with the Bombardier skill. The bomb may be caught and then thrown again as usual. Any knockdowns and injury rolls (for either team) are worked out before the event ends.
